Firemen balk at wage increase proposal

The men from the Minden Fire Department haven't received a raise in over 15 years and they want one.

Now.

The men voted unanimously a week ago last Tuesday night that the municipality's wage proposal should be turned down.

Fire Chief William Jackson told council last Wednesday "we compromised by cutting the radio worth $2,900 out of the budget so the men could get their raises."

Council is not denying the wage increase as such, but is suggested that the increase be spread out over this year and next.

"It's difficult to pick up 15 years in one year," said councillor Stuart Brandon.

Presently the men receive $7.00 for the first hour and $3.50 for every hour after, that it takes to fight the fire and they get $3.50 an hour for practises.

The men are demanding a $3.00 raise for the first hour and a $1.50 raise for every hour of fire-fighting after that.

Council has offered the men a wage package of $8.50 the first hour, followed by $4.25 for 1979 and $10.00 first hour and $5.00 for every other hour beginning 1980.

Damage $8,700 in four accidents

Damage amounted to $8,700 in four accidents last week.

Early Thursday morning a van was rolled over and hit a Bell Canada guy wife causing $3,000 damage to the 1977 van and $200 damage to the guy wire.

Harris Steel, 30 of R. R. 1 Haliburton was eastbound on highway 530, west of West Guilford when the vehicle went out of control.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis.

On Friday evening a 1975 car received $3,000 damage when it rolled over and hit a tree along county road 10 near Harcourt.

Henry Anderson, 20 of Petawawa was southbound when the accident occurred.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Jim Solway.

Heavy rain was blamed for a truck going out of control and rolling over in a ditch beside highway 503, near Gooderham, Saturday evening.

The 1974 pickup, driven by Marion Czochra, 48 of Oshawa, was damaged to the tune of $1,000.

Early Sunday morning a 1976 pickup was estimated with $1,500 damage when it

But the chief said the men want the entire raise this year.

"I don't feel the men are being selfish," chief Jackson told council.

"We're the most efficient department in the county. And we've got the least cost per capita and the lowest losses in fires," he added.

"You're the only department in the county that's paid that kind of money, too," pointed out reeve Sinc Nesbitt.

The chief said that since the fire department had overbudgeted $6,000 last year maybe that money could be used for the wage increases.

But reeve Nesbitt explained that the whole municipal budget usually evens out because one department overbudgets and another underbudgets.

Chief Jackson said that 13 of the 18 firemen were present to reject the wage proposal at the earlier meeting.

After the discussion Chief Jackson said "I'll take it back to the men but I know they will turn it down."

When the issue comes up before the fire department again councillor Stuart Brandon suggested that a secret ballot should be taken.

"There's a lot of pressure in the department and if it's just a show of hands most people will go along with the crowd," he said.

Visit police trailer this week

This is national police week and Haliburton County is very fortunate to have the OPP display trailer in the area.

The theme this year is "Working together to prevent crimes".

The trailer has been on display beside the police station in Minden and was moved this morning to the main street of Haliburton.

Constable Wim Magee is on hand to answer any questions from the public.

The display trailer is filled with photos of police activities including scuba diving, the handling of firearms and police officers on patrol.

A 1909 uniform is on display along with an air patrol demonstration and instructions on the safe handling of bicycles.

There is also a memorial to Cloud 11, who was shot in the call of duty while tracking an escaped prisoner.

The trailer is also used as a self-detained detachment in times of emergencies, like plane crashes and also for patrolling special events like Mosport races.

Circus is coming to town

The Recreation Committee of Minden announces that they will be sponsoring an appearance of the famous MARTIN AND DOWNS CIRCUS on Thursday, June 7 with 2 performances set for 6 and 8 p.m. at the Minden Fairgrounds.

The Martin and Downs Circus tours annually in Canada and presents one of the finest family performances under the big top. The Recreation Committee will announce in this newspaper the start of their ticket sales campaign. They receive a percentage of all tickets sold and the money earned from this project will go toward their many worthwhile community minded projects.

Advance tickets will be priced lower than box office tickets and it is hoped that everyone in the area will support the sponsoring organization and buy their advance circus tickets early.

Takes 11 shots at wife's home

A Minden man fired 11 shots from a 30/30 Winchester rifle around the outside of a house where his estranged wife was staying in Irondale.

The incident occurred at 2:45 a.m. Saturday.

The man has been charged with careless use of a firearm. He was released from Lindsay court on Monday and is to appear in Minden court June 19.

Investigation by constables Bob Wood and Boyd Jarvis.

Long delay in firearms registration, OPP

The two-month-long Firearms Amnesty Program at the end of 1978 has caused a six-month minimum delay in processing applications for restricted weapon permits.

These applications deal with three categories of guns. They are:

1. Rifles or shotguns with a muzzle velocity of over 500 feet per second, a barrel length of less than 18 1/2 inches and which use centre-fire ammunition in a semi-automatic mode. Also included are guns such as pistols designed to be fired with one hand.

2. Guns that can be folded or telescoped shorter than 26 inches.

3. Fully automatic weapons registered prior to January 1, 1978, and forming part of a bona fide gun collection.

Chief Provincial Firearms Officer Jim Villemaire, of the OPP Registration Branch says, "We processed 22,000 during the Amnesty, ten times the usual number. All of the applications have to be vetted through Ottawa." Supt. Villemaire continued, "With forms going in from right across the Country, it will take them a while to get them all."

FROM THE CHAMBER

New Theme Park for the Highlands

Global International, designers, builders and developers from Cambridge, Ontario released to us this week their plans for a new theme park in Haliburton County. "Upon completion of our intensive studies we have decided on the land that we hold in Haliburton for the installation of our beautiful prehistoric era theme park," said David J. Ingle, general manager of Global. He cited the optimistic tourist outlook of the Haliburton area along with the natural background our terrain offers their types of exhibits as important reasons for locating here. Work will be commencing immediately on the property which is located on 121 highway just east of Paradise Lake, and it is anticipated that the park will be in operation by next summer. Long range plans include a children's farmland zoo, swimming pool, recreational area and pavillion and kiddies joy rides.

This appears to be an excellent tourist attraction facility which is bound to substantially help our tourism business. The Chamber looks forward to meeting with Mr. Ingle and company president Barry Redwood shortly to discuss more details of their plans. We of course welcome them to our community and wish them much success.

Ontario Convention

Last week we visited Ottawa for the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Convention. One of the most productive sessions was the provincial policy meeting at which policy suggestions for the Ontario government submitted by local chambers are discussed and approved or disapproved by the membership body. Over the past few years a number of us have expressed concern that we were not getting the best advantage from these sessions but it was generally agreed this year that we are on the right track now.

Members may recall that some three months ago we circulated requests for policy submissions to our entire membership. On reviewing what was received, two submissions were made by our Chamber to the Ontario Chamber. These along with submissions made by other Chambers across Ontario were circulated in a book form to all delegates prior to attending the convention. Each submission was discussed and in some cases amendments were made and a vote taken as to whether they should become part of the Ontario Chamber policy or not. All submissions that were passed became part of the Ontario Chamber Policy to be presented to members of the Provincial government cabinet on behalf of the Chamber as a whole.

One of our submissions had been resolved prior to the convention, and the other regarding permanent cancellation of the Ontario sales tax on accommodation was passed and became policy. Hopefully now the credibility of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce with the Provincial government will now have considerable bearing on the government decisions made in the areas we discussed.

What's new

The old Cameo Restaurant in Minden has taken on a new look and is now identified as "The Bake Shop". Along with delicious baked goods the shop also specializes in Captain Nemo's submarines and other assorted snacks. Keith and Eva Prior are holding their official opening this week and invite all their friends in the Minden area to drop in for a snack and see the considerable change they have made in the interior.

Mike Vuksic, of Mike's Milk fame has now purchased Welch's Store on highway 530 between Carnarvon and West Guilford. Mike was quick to point out that he plans no major changes and that even the name will remain the same. Welch's have long been known for their low, low prices and their friendly personnel and Mike plans to keep both these qualities intact under his new ownership.

Up at Ox Narrows the Kashagowi Cottages and Snack Bar have been purchased by Tom Kunza and Wally Visintin. The establishment has been renamed Waterlott Marina and Tom and Wally are putting a big emphasis on their marine facilities. The snack bar has been renovated considerably and they are anxious to have their new neighbours drop in and say hello and have a cup of coffee. Do stop in and meet these two new families and make them welcome to our community. We wish them much success.

Congratulations to the Brandons on the opening of their new store "Jeans 'n Stuff". It would appear that Slim and Stuart have zeroed in on an area of particular need in this community and we wish them much success in their venture.

Kinsmen celebrate across the county

The three Kinsmen clubs in Haliburton County along with their respective Kinette organizations are all hosting ambitious functions this holiday weekend. The Minden Kinsmen are hosting Mayfest at the Minden Arena with a genuine Oompah Band. In Haliburton, Blake Emmons and the Whisky River Band have been brought in for a stage show and dance at Haliburton Arena. In Wilberforce, the third annual Kintoria Day celebrations will be held at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Hall and through town. Enjoy.

Progressive Conservative candidate Bill Scott told a crowd estimated at 300 people Monday night that a change of government in Ottawa would go a long way toward settling the years-long confrontation between workers and management in the Post Office.

"It is not the rank and file of postal workers that have been causing all the problems," Scott told an overflow crowd in his campaign committee rooms.

"The real culprits have been a handful of militant union officials, and an equally militant succession of

Logan is critical of degree of Federal-Provincial government cooperation in Victoria County

On Friday and Saturday, a week ago this past week-end, Liberal candidate David Logan was very encouraged by the support that he received in three key areas of the riding.

On Friday evening Mr. Logan attended a dance in Sutton which was sponsored by the Georgina Township Liberal Association in favour of the Georgina Library Fund. A large number of people were in attendance to hear Mr. Logan's address.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Logan campaigned in the north end of the riding with Mr. John Eakins, Provincial Member of Parliament for Victoria and Haliburton and Mr. David Walling. While in Haliburton, these gentlemen met with a number of constituents and discussed the issues.

In the evening Mr. Logan journeyed to the other extremity of the riding where he attended a Liberal Dance at the Apsley Community Centre. This dance was attended by well over 300 people.

Mr. Logan expressed grave concern regarding the lack of government cooperation at the senior level. As evidence, he cited the economic problems associated with the closing of the Kawartha Lakes Training School in Lindsay. "With one stroke of the pen upwards to 100 people are unemployed and an extremely fine facility is left dormant". Mr. Logan maintained that thought, foresight, planning, and open lines of communication between the two senior levels of government could have created a situation that would make closing much more palatable. Whereas the Conservative dominated Provincial Government closed the Kawartha Lakes Training School as a Training School there is nevertheless, no need for the facility to remain unproductive for any period of time. Mr. Logan stated "that it was his opinion that the Kawartha Lakes Training School might well be considered for an Agricultural Research Station." Such a station would benefit the constituents of Victoria and Haliburton by replacing much needed employment, and in addition, Agriculture, which is one of the dominant features of Victoria and Haliburton's economic life would get a much needed employment, and in addition, Agriculture, which is one of the dominant features of Postmasters General.

"We know that there are some trouble makers in the ranks of postal workers. We have read about those small groups of hoodlums, mostly in the larger cities, who try to prevent the loyal and dedicated majority of postal workers from doing their jobs," he said.

The Monday occasion was a coffee party in the PC committee rooms, organized by Mrs. Alice Carew, of Lindsay.

"We expected some sort of a crowd, but not this," Mrs. Carew said. "The people just kept coming and coming all evening. It was just wonderful."

Campaign manager Russell Wunker of Miner's Bay screened the Tory campaign film twice during the evening in a makeshift theatre set up in the main hall in the mammoth William Street headquarters.

Scott told the meeting that a Progressive Conservative government would take steps to restore efficient postal service by rooting out the real problems instead of battling with the postal workers.

"The Canadian people are sick and tired of confrontation politics," Scott said. "Trudeau has proven over the past eleven desolate years that it doesn't work.

What we propose is consultation in place of confrontation, and my impression thus far in the campaign is that the Canadian people are ready for a return to sanity in government."

Scott refused to dwell on the sentence handed down by the courts against postal union chief Jean Claude Parrott.

"I met Parrott on a number of occasions, and I liked him personally, but I cannot look lightly on anyone who treats the Canadian Parliament with contempt. None of us is above Parliament and the law. It's that simple," he concluded.

Victoria and Haliburton's economic life would get a much needed boost. However, to bring an arrangement of this nature to fruition without a large hiatus in time requires initiative, cooperation, and foresight by our member of parliament. The ability to gain the ear of the people who can get things done, is also paramount. Mr. Logan was adamant that this type of job had to be done by Victoria and Haliburton's member. "Otherwise we will continue to be considered as an area that is secondary in the main stream of economic life within Ontario and Canada." Mr. Logan stressed and underlined the fact that he was committed to making Victoria and Haliburton part of the main stream of the economic life of Canada and that its citizens deserved representation that can make these things happen.

P.C.'s would "de-politicize" DREE

Progressive Conservative candidate Bill Scott revealed today that Joe Clark assured him in a letter last October that a Conservative government after May 22nd would act immediately to "de-politicize" the functions of the Department of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE).

Scott said that DREE was established a number of years ago to help reduce regional economic disparities, and to help to relieve specific economic problems in different areas of the country.

"However," Scott said, "DREE soon became a political tool of the Liberal government in Ottawa, and DREE aid was dispensed more as political patronage than as an aid to distressed regions and areas of the country."

Scott recounted his own efforts over the years to have the riding of Victoria-Haliburton designated as an area that would be qualified for DREE assistance, and said that claims that he had done nothing to secure DREE aid for the riding were groundless.

"Anyone who reads the paper, and surely anyone who has followed my activities in Parliament would know that I have been literally hounding the minister responsible for DREE for many years to extend the nearest designated area, which ends at the Hastings boundary, into Victoria-Haliburton," Scott said.

Scott said that Hansard, the record of the proceedings of Parliament, is the best place to check on his efforts concerning DREE, and many other matters affecting the riding of Victoria-Haliburton.

"For instance," he said, "on December 1st, 1978, I again asked the DREE minister if he had looked into my request to have the DREE formula amended to include central Ontario. I also asked him when his department was going to start applying the DREE formula on the basis of need, rather than on the basis of other considerations."

of other considerations."

Hansard for that date, on page 1702, shows that the minister replied as follows:

"As to the many representations made by the honourable member to obtain that his region be declared a designated area and as such become entitled to direct assistance to industries, I don't think that I am ready to do that yet."

Scott said that he did not accept the minister's decision then, and he doesn't accept it now.

"I intend to pursue the matter until we get the same consideration extended to other, less deserving ridings. When the affluent home riding of the Prime Minister, Mount Royal, can get DREE assistance, than I intend to keep fighting to get it for Victoria-Haliburton," he said.

Scott said that Joe Clark has encouraged his efforts regarding DREE, and other matters, and Clark's letter to Scott dated October 11th, 1978, contained Joe's pledge to give DREE the credibility it has never attained under Trudeau's ministry.

Clark said that he would remove the political influence of DREE decisions; blend DREE's assistance with provincial priorities, and direct DREE funds into projects that have a realistic prospect of taking root.

"DREE was a good concept, and it could have made a great contribution to the removal or reduction of regional disparities," Scott said, "but unfortunately it got lost in the Trudeau government's political grab-bag. But, a Joe Clark government will place it in its proper role in our economic system."

Daniel speaks at opening of NDP headquarters

Some notes for a speech to an open meeting to be held at the New Democratic Headquarters at 20 York Street South, in Lindsay on Monday, May 7, 1979, by Patrick Daniel, the NDP candidate for Victoria-Haliburton.

As I travel about this riding of Victoria-Haliburton, from Keswick on Lake Simcoe to Haliburton and Wilberforce in the north-east, I have been talking about the election issues with the voters. They are concerned - about the lack of a sense of direction - the lack of real economic strategy for this county.

Liberal and Conservative governments in Toronto and in Ottawa have subscribed to the myth, stated or not, that we in Canada will be only "hewers of wood and drawers of water". You know, what that means: it means that our trees will be cut down and our 160 members have joined 4-H agricultural clubs in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. There are seventeen clubs between the two counties. Projects include beef, dairy, sheep, goat, pony, garden, field crops, farm machinery and veterinary science.

There are 29 volunteer leaders in charge of the 4-H program.

4-H is for boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 19 as of January 1, 1979. Deadline for enrolment was May 1, 1979.

All 4-H clubs elect a club executive. About 30 executive 4-H members attended an Officers Workshop on Tuesday, May 1st at the Agricultural Office. Parliamentary procedure and officers' duties were discussed. A 4-H club executive consists of a president, Vice President, secretary and News Reporter.

Haliburton businesses broken into Thieves were busy last Tuesday night and Wednesday morning when they broke into three Haliburton businesses, stealing over $600 worth of property.

The window in Varty Jewellers was smashed and two men's watches were taken. Value estimated at $459.

Damage to the window was $200.

At the same time a window valued at $36 was smashed at the Driftwood restaurant but nothing was taken.

The thieves then broke a $60 window at the LCBO store and stole $166 worth of liquor. Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning is continuing the investigation.

Scott called on the public to accept "collective and personal responsibility" in supporting our police departments to curb crime in all its forms, and to work for an orderly society in which our citizens can enjoy freedom with security.

The PC candidate said that Trudeau, and his policies, such as the official languages bill, have split Canada down the middle, and that there has never been such disunity in Canada as we have today.

"Most of us in the Conservative caucus in Parliament thought that spending two or three hundred million dollars was money well spent if it would improve relations between English and French Canadians."

Scott said that he and his well-thinking colleagues were deceived by the Prime Minister.

"Trudeau has used the official languages legislation to pit French against English and English against French in his despotic urge to hang onto power."

"And, in addition to the human suffering and anguish wrought by the government's language programs, it is costing the Canadian taxpayers more than 500 million dollars each year. On both accounts it adds up to needless and tragic waste," Scott said.

Scott said that we must resist any and all attempts to hyphenate Canadians and Canadianism.

Flicker to a Flame

Well, it's the same old song and dance 'if you don't want to do it my way we won't do it at all'. That was the feeling when Fire Chief William Jackson told Anson, Hindon and Minden council that the firemen were refusing the proposed wage increase, last Wednesday.

The problem doesn't really lie in the amount of money the men want, as far as council's concerned, they are quite willing to give the men their increase but over a two-year period instead of one.

Now, this seems a bit ridiculous that these men who have waited 15 years for a raise, flatly refuse when council has agreed to increase their wages half the amount this year and the other half next year.

It is an illogical and irresponsible decision on behalf of the firefighters.

The men should realize that wage increases like these cause inflation and also create bad feelings between municipal departments.

If members of one department receive such an outrageous wage increase in one year, soon every department will be demanding the same. It will not matter that the firemen have not had a raise in fifteen years.

The firemen should be glad that council is not haggling over the amount of the increase, especially since cutbacks seem to be abundant this year.

So, please, firemen act like the responsible citizens you are and accept council's proposal before this little flicker turns into a flame.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

By John Eakins, M.P.P.

The Minister of Correctional Services has announced that inmates involved in the recent riot at the Guelph Correctional Centre, during which seven prisoners escaped, will be punished "to the severest extent". While estimating the destruction at $37,000, the Minister said convicts across the province must be shown that the Government will not tolerate similar behaviour. "Disciplinary action will be taken against those inmates found responsible for the damage and, where warranted, criminal charges will be laid. One way or another, the inmates involved will pay for the damage."

Opposition Members have severely criticized the Ontario Commission into Food Discounts as a "whitewash" and a "charade". Jack Riddell, the Liberal agriculture critic doesn't "hold out much hope that the report will be worth more than the paper it's written on", and the NDP critic described the enquiry as a "pussycat affair". The Commission was set up last year after both Opposition Parties pushed for a full investigation of discounts demanded by supermarket chains from suppliers. However, apparently commission staff have "adopted the attitude that nothing is wrong with discounts".

In an effort to determine if underground mining increases the risk of lung cancer, the Ministry of Labour is studying the health records of more than 16,000 uranium miners and 30,000 other miners in Ontario. All causes of death among miners - natural, accidental or disease-related - will be reviewed. A recent federal study of 60 communities across Canada - 50% mining and 50% non-mining - strongly suggested that a high incidence of lung cancer deaths among men in three Northern Ontario mining communities is related to underground hard-rock mining. The Ontario study will cover miners with at least 5 years experience, and when completed will show whether gold miners are more at risk than the general population or more at risk than, for example, nickel miners. Uranium miners have been divided from the rest, and must have worked at least a month in a uranium mine.

The Minister of Community and Social Services has announced new rules covering child abuse cases, which have been warmly praised by the people and agencies who are to apply them. These rules require the recording of alleged child abuses in Children's Aid Society case files - not just in the caseworker's notebook - within 24 hours. Police are to be informed of all cases of probable child abuse.

Liberal Leader Stuart Smith asked the Transportation Minister why Marla Ellery of Burlington,

Ontario's first licensed woman trucker couldn't get her licence renewed, on the ground that she was diabetic. Highway Traffic Act licensing regulations were revised and tightened in 1976, so that a diabetic, no matter how well-controlled the condition, cannot get a licence to operate any vehicle weighing more than 18,000 pounds. Diabetics who had a valid licence to drive a truck before the regulation came into effect had their licences renewed automatically, because they had proven that they had controlled the condition. Mrs. Ellery trained as a trucker in 1973, and passed the training course with 98%. However, she did not obtain a full trucker's licence and became a wife and mother. It was only after her husband fell ill and had to stop work, that she sought work as a trucker and applied for the licence. She intends to continue her fight to overcome the obstacle posed by the new regulations.

Dear Editor:

Trudeau - Financial Disaster

As we approach the most important federal election in our history, I am fervently hoping that Canadians will judge political candidates on policies as opposed to such frivolous items as why Joe Clark lost his luggage while on a world tour.

Intelligent Canadians will immediately cast off such childish concerns as style and charisma and will instead focus on important issues such as competence and fiscal responsibility.

Pierre Trudeau became Prime Minister in April, 1968. Consider the financial record of his administration (source: Public Accounts, Department of Finance; percentage figures have been adjusted to take inflation into account):

1. In 1968 the gross federal debt was $33 billion; in 1978 it was $80 billion. Increase: 25% (When I asked Pierre Trudeau to explain this while he was in Edmonton last year, he typically evaded the question).

2. In 1968 the annual interest we paid on our federal debt was $1.3 billion; in 1978 it was $5.6 billion. Increase: 129%.

3. In 1978, 13% of the total federal budget was devoted solely to interest payments on the federal debt. This would be like every working Canadian paying $560 just to cover the federal government's interest obligations.

4. Since 1968 annual federal spending has increased 105%.

5. Since 1968 the annual federal deficits have increased by 496%!

6. Due to ravaging inflation, what would have cost $1.00 in 1968 cost $1.94 in 1978. Increase: 94% (Inflation is caused by a number of factors, but the most important factor is irresponsible government policies).

This is a record of monstrous incompetence and utter disregard for the welfare of the Canadian people. How can thinking Canadians support such mis-management? When will we stop judging Pierre Trudeau on his TV image and start judging him on his managerial capabilities? We have had eleven years of financial disaster - can we afford another five years?

Sincerely
Peter D. Schalin

Mainstream Canada

By W. Roger Worth

There's little wonder many Canadians are confused and disturbed about the seemingly endless maze of sometimes contradictory rules and regulations emanating from the nation's capital.

While minor variations in rules can be irritating, the situation becomes downright ridiculous when one general government policy blatantly contradicts another.

A case in point.

In the late 1960s Ottawa became concerned about consumers, forcing manufacturers and retailers to provide more detailed product and price information on goods. Armed with the additional knowledge, consumers would be able to make more intelligent buying decisions.

Protection - even coddling - of consumers became the order of the day for Ottawa's mandarins.

Later, a government-oriented program ensured similar product information would be made available to people speaking either official language.

Both these moves, while expensive and inconvenient for manufacturers, suppliers and retailers, were perhaps justified. Consumers, of course, eventually paid the cost of the changes, but, according to the bureaucrats, the public was finally getting an even break.

Now, though, it appears the mandarins in at least one government department have changed their minds.

The Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs is proposing a regulation prohibiting the use of anything but metric measurements in advertising and promotional information on goods.

If accepted, millions of Canadian consumers will be left to fend for themselves in a world of metres, litres, grams and kilograms. Inches, feet, ounces and pounds would be outlawed.

The Ottawa Metricators believe this would be a neat way to force Canadians to learn the new system, conveniently forgetting introduction of the measurements was supposed to be voluntary.

What's interesting to note is that the bureaucrats seeking an outright ban on feet and inches work for Consumer and Corporate Affairs, the department that has so jealously guarded and promoted consumer rights.

Suddenly, it seems, the department officials have reversed their field. Under the new mandatory rules, consumers would be deprived of basic information they need to make knowledgeable decisions.

What's sauce for the goose, it seems, is not sauce for the gander, at least according to the bureaucracy's new rules.

SENIOR LEAGUE

by Doris Robertson

Monday morning we began another week with fun and fitness. We sang some happy songs and played games and kicked the ball. Everyone enjoyed an hour of exercising their bodies. In the afternoon, the ladies made their way downstairs to work on several interesting crafts. We are preparing for our bazaar which will be held this summer. Monday evening shortly after dinner, the residents went to the auditorium for a look at two very interesting movies. The first called The edge of Evolution told of the transition of the ice age to Muskeg to peat moss. It showed the very beginning of plant life in the Arctic, rock formations and the first signs of life. This film had beautiful scenery and lots of wild life with which the residents were quite enthused. Also it showed a visit to Prince Rupert and explained that the buildings are constructed on 40 to 50 feet of Muskeg. It is amazing how the Eskimos live and make their own clothes, and how people as well as animals adapt to the cold climate of the Arctic. This was a thorough investigation of Muskeg, animal life and human existence from the Arctic right down the west coast of Canada.

The second film was called Across the City and into the Trees. It consisted of a look at our National Capital, Ottawa and how the fair city protects the wild life and keeps their national parks alive and an interesting place to visit. The residents commented on how they particularly enjoyed the wild life scenes in both of these movies.

Tuesday began with a spiritual lift when Rev. David Barker of St. Paul's Anglican Church held a Communion service in the Chapel. Because the weather has taken a pleasant change, we decided to take advantage of the good fresh air and sunshine. Those who could went walking and those who are confined to wheelchairs rode. Everyone enjoyed their outing and the nice weather after such a long cold winter.

Wednesday, of course we started with our usual fun and fitness in the morning. In the afternoon, the ladies worked on their crafts, and the gentlemen enjoyed a game of Carpet Bowling in the auditorium.

Thursday was another beautiful sunny day and the residents again took advantage after the fun and fitness program. The West Guilford Gospel Church ladies brought a delicious selection of goodies and served tea in the afternoon. We certainly enjoyed their cheery smiles and goodwill. Thank You, Ladies!

Thursday was a very special day at Hyland Crest, especially for Mrs. Ida Schell who celebrated her birthday. Best wishes were sent to her when everyone joined in and sang Happy Birthday, as she was presented with a nicely decorated birthday cake, in the evening we again appreciated the efforts of the Kinsmen who came in to call our Bingo numbers for us.

LINDSAY AGRICULTURAL OFFICE

FARM NEWS and VIEWS

Use herbicides wisely

Chemicals used to control weeds can fail to do the job. If you have run into this problem in the past, perhaps you were responsible for the failure, not the herbicide. When you choose a herbicide or combination of herbicides, there are a number of factors which you must consider.

1. Is it the right herbicide for the job? You must know what weeds you are trying to control before you can pick the right herbicide. For instance, Artrazine does an excellent job of controlling broadleaf weeds such as pigweed in the corn crop. Atrazine is weak however, on annual grasses such as foxtail and some perennials such as field bindweed. If annual grasses are the problem, you need to use a chemical such as Lasso, Bladex, Sutan plus, Eradicaine or Dual. Similar examples are available for soybean and spring grain herbicides.

Combinations of chemicals can cost more per acre than using a single chemical. Tests have shown that only 1 lambsquarter plant per foot of row can reduce the corn yield by nearly 10%. That's enough to pay for treating the field with the proper herbicide.

Do you know what weeds you are trying to control? You can't plan the right herbicide program without that knowledge.

2. The herbicide must be applied at the proper rate and time, if it is to work properly. Information on rates and timing is available in Publication 75 "Guide to Chemical Weed Control", available from the Lindsay Agricultural Office. Also be sure to read the herbicide label for information on rates and time of application.

Rates are usually given in a range. Lower rates are normally used on light sandy soils and higher rates on heavier clay soils. Cutting back on herbicide rates is false economy, as weeds may not be controlled. Increasing the rate may cause crop damage, or may leave residues that will damage a succeeding crop. Apply the spray at the right time. Applying the chemical too late may result in crop damage. For example, Lasso or Bladex applied too late may damage the corn and not control the weeds adequately. If surfactants or oil concentrates in combination with Atrazine are applied when the corn is more than 10" high (leaf extended), severe injury can occur.

3. Environmental conditions affect the performance of herbicides. Most preemergent herbicides used in corn production require a light rain to move them into the soil where they can establish a barrier to prevent weed seedlings from growing. If rainfall does not occur, it may be wise to use a shallow incorporation to move the herbicide into the soil.

With certain herbicides, the condition of the soil may be important. For instance, Sutan plus should be applied to a dry soil surface as it will rapidly volatilize if applied to a wet soil surface.

Most herbicides work best at a certain temperature range. Application when temperatures are wrong may damage the crop or result in inadequate weed control. If temperatures are too high, 2,4-DB may severely injure legume seedlings. If corn has been frozen or freezing temperatures occur, a post-emergence application of atrazine and oil may damage the corn crop.

4. If you use additives such as oils, oil concentrates or surfactants, make sure you use the proper one with the right herbicide. Using one of these additives with the wrong chemical may severely damage the crop. Read the label carefully to be sure.

In general, oils give best results under adverse conditions, such as use on quack grass, nutsedge, and heavy infestations of annual grasses or when weeds have developed under dry or cool conditions.

5. When you've chosen a herbicide program, follow your decisions. Make sure the sprayer is calibrated to apply the rate you have decided upon. Going out and spraying a tankful of chemical and seeing how far it goes is completely unsatisfactory. Consult your owner's manual, or the Guide to Chemical Weed Control for calibration methods.

To plan your weed control program, know the weeds, know the herbicide, and apply it properly. Attention to these details will allow you to have weed-free fields.

There's more to buying or selling a car than you think.

When you're buying or selling a car privately, a handshake and bill of sale doesn't mean the deal is complete.

If you're the seller, it's in your best interest to make sure the change of ownership has been registered properly with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

If it hasn't, all parking tickets automatically go to you. If you ignore them you could be subject to arrest for failure to pay fines. You could also find yourself involved in a civil suit if the vehicle is in an accident after the sale.

If you're the buyer, it's also in your best interest to make sure the change of ownership has been registered. Both buyer and seller should visit a Ministry of Transportation and Communications licence-issuing office and transfer the ownership in person.

A free pamphlet, "Buying or Selling a Car Privately", is available at all MTC licence-issuing offices, or by writing Public and Safety Information Branch, Ministry of Transportation and Communications, 1201 Wilson Ave., Downsview, Ontario M3M 1J8.

Butch's Bait - A great place for bait and stories

Butch's Bait is a real fisherman's store. It is not so much in what the store has to offer, oh it has lots, but it's the feeling you get while browsing around. There is a different story in every part of the store and like most fish stories all are interesting and amusing.

Hanging on the wall is the bear's skin that Butch, Bill Pollard, shot on a hunting trip.

He says that it took him and his partner Dave Willis three days to carry the animal out of the bush. It was hard work and although the meat was delicious Butch says he'll never do it again.

There's a wooden post near the minnow tanks that is covered with pictures of smiling people holding their prize catch.

With all these photos of every kind of fish from the area and even a few shots of fish caught in the Carribean it seems to be proof positive that Butch's Bait really work.

Butch has baits available for most of the fish that can be caught in the area.

With worms, frogs, leeches, crawfish and many different types of minnows all the fisherman has to do is choose the kind of fish he wants to catch.

All the baits are available when the season opens for the particular fish that has a liking for that bait.

Butch gets the frogs in when the bass are in season.

Last year he paid school boys a dollar a dozen for frogs. But even then it is impossible to keep up with the demand. Most of the baits are shipped in but Butch traps some of the minnow himself in the off season but he's just too busy when the store opens for business in May.

Butch's Bait, located at intersection of highways 35 and 503 in Norland

The Minnows are kept in big tanks at the rear of the store in clear cold water.

The worms are kept in their own special little room in the basement where the temperature is kept at 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

Five hundred worms are in each square foot flat with about fifteen flats in the room. And the light is always on, so the worms will remain in the uncovered flats.

Butch recalls the time that the lightbulb burnt out and all the worms crawled out because they thought it was night.

"There were thousands and thousands of them all over," he laughs now.

Butch is adding another feature this year. He is opening up a pizza and sub shop in co-operation with Medley's Pizza of Haliburton. The pizza shop is in an adjacent store around the corner.

"There's starting to be a standing joke around here that if you get everything on your pizza it will have minnows, worms, frogs, leeches and crawfish, too," says Butch.

The evidence: Jim Gillies, M.P. for Don Valley, said two years ago that the "hewers of wood" tradition is a good one for Canada.

Mr. Clark has not only failed to lay out an alternative industrial strategy but has clearly indicated he is in the main stream of Liberal-Conservative thought on this:

(1) In Japan, Clark promised more oil for another branch plant.

2. Although not exactly precise, the central thrust of his position on Petro-Canada is that he would sell it off.

(3). In the debates at the time of the energy crisis over the decision of Exxon to curtail its commitments to supply eastern Canada with imported oil, Allan Lawrence, M.P. in Ontario, made it very clear we should rely on multinational oil companies to meet our off-shore energy needs.

(4) Mr. Clark has promised more tax concessions to the multinational oil companies.

(5) Most important of all in this election campaign, Mr. Clark has made no attempt to deal with the central economic reality of our land: we have more foreign ownership of our economy than any other industrial research and development: short production runs).

The N.D.P. rejects as quite out of hand the simplistic notion that Canadian development must consist that an N.D.P. game plan for overwhelmingly of resource extraction and export in our resources can work. We relatively unprocessed form, can build a strong, united

We believe strongly that any advantage Canada may have in terms of resource supply should be used to build a dynamic secondary manufacturing sector. Maximum upgrading of resources to meet domestic needs to replace imports, and beyond that to compete in export markets must be a priority.

New arrival is a baby girl for Mr. and Mrs. Wally Bunn. There was a grand get-together Saturday evening at the Recreation Centre in honour of Erma and Ron Little on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary. Belated good wishes from the community.

Missed mentioning a wedding with congrats to Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Roberts (nee Lori Northey) married May 4th and on May 12th congrats to the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. David Petney (nee Bonnie Jean Cowen).

At the last Mini Card Party at the Parish Hall for this season, winners were for bridge Diane Warnes, for cribbage, Lilian Davidson and Diane Stevens and for euchre lone hands Ada Turrall, and Bill Elcome and Mary McKelvey (on a cut).

Last Tuesday afternoon some of the Nursery Play children visited Minden Library as they will go to Kindergarten in September and will than know what there is at this Branch. We welcome any group to drop in and see what we can do for you. Hours are afternoons 3-5 and Tuesday, Thursday, Friday evenings 7:30 - 8:30.

Mrs. Russell Lewis of Hyland Crest spent a few days visiting her cousins Mr. and Mrs. George Maddocks of Valentia and Miss Isobel Davey of Lindsay.

The Measure of Man
Not--"How did he die?" But--

"How did he live?"
Not--"What did he gain?"
But--"What did he give?"
Not--"What was his station?"
But--"Had he a heart?"
And--How did he play his God-given part?"
But--"Had he befriended those really in need?"
Not--"What did the sketch in the newspaper say?"
But--"How many were sorry when he passed away?"
"Was he ever ready with a word of good cheer,
To bring back a smile, to banish a tear?
These are the units to measure the worth
Of a man as a Man, regardless of birth.
Anon.

Sorry to report the death of Mrs. Bill Ritchie, a former Teacher at the Public School, on April 12th; sincere sympathy also goes to the family and friends of the late Ruth Lynas and Lorne Cooper and also Mrs. Dave Blair (Pritchard) was interred here last week.

Marjorie Francis had a crowd at her home one day lately in honour of Jim Minaker of Fenelon Falls (her father) on the occasion of his 86th birthday and many of his old friends called in with good wishes, and the community adds their good wishes as well.

Recent guest with Mrs. Ern Hewitt are sons, Neil of Carleton Place, Foster of Toronto, Fred of Scarboro and David Pink of Orillia.
We saw a familiar face in the village over the weekend as John Welch was home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Reg Welch.

Weekend guests with the Harold Coulters were the George Johnsons of Barry's Bay and the Bill Callows of Huntsville.

There was a special Service at Minden United Church Sunday a.m. as several little ones were christened, Jessica Jean Berry, Heather Ann Cox, and Erin Eliza McKnight. Also Mothers receiving corsages were Mrs. W. Cox as senior one, Mrs. M. Prentice as having largest family present at the service and Mrs. S. Berry having the youngest child.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox were away visiting relatives, the Ron Cox family at Peterborough and the Goldie Hensons of Roseneath and while there they attended the christening of their Great Grandson, William Rylance.

There were Puppet Shows from Lake Ontario Regional Services at several branch Libraries in this part of Haliburton County. Ours was at the Municipal Building Saturday afternoon with about 40 children and parents also enjoying the show and especially the touch of magic at the beginning.

Carol Finn of Guild of Fine Arts was special speaker at the Library-Cultural meeting last Monday night at Municipal building.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Leaman and family of River Drive Park visited Saturday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. M. Sears.

Coming events are the Kin Spring Fest on Saturday night at the Arena and also Saturday at 10 a.m. is Minden Figure Skater's Flea Market.

Was a grand week with warm weather and some showery days, the river was getting higher but we are sure the worst is over. Hope everyone had a grand Mother's Day.

Some students for the District High School and teachers are away having a Geography Trip at Niagara Falls, Cheerio until next time.

Environment officials approve Lutterworth dump

Ministry of the Environment officials completed their inspections last week of Lutterworth's dump sites. Mr. Grant Yarrow, Senior Environmental Officer and Mr. John Ross, Area Inspector, were accompanied by Mr. Ron Gambell, Reeve, Mr. Glynne Lewis, Deputy Reeve, Mr. Allen Stott, Councillor, and Mr. Steve Fox, By-Law Enforcement Officer. The Ministry officials reported that the trench and fill method employed at the Township's Deep Bay Road site was excellent. It was noted that the impact on the environment was minimal through this method and the ministry recommends its use. Approval was also given for a new dump site approximately one quarter of a mile north of the existing Davis Lake location. The new site is expected to be in operation for the summer season.

Cathy Kinsman, daughter of Jack & Marion Kinsman of Minden, graduates this spring from Sheridan College, Oakville.

Cathy has been in the Music Theatre course at Sheridan for 2 years. This is the only course of its kind in Ontario and possibly Canada. For both of her years at Sheridan, Cathy had the leading role in the spring

"Broadway show" productions. Bill Gliddon and his musical productions at H.H.S.S. are to be credited with inspiring Cathy in her choice of career.

Last summer she did a club act at 3 local businesses - Mr. Fogg's Restaurant, Hart Lodge and Wig-A-Mog Inn, and now, hopefully a musical show business career awaits her.

Stolen vehicle found

After a vehicle was stolen from its parking place just north of Haliburton the owner found it later stuck in a ditch, still running, near the North Kashagawigamog Road.

Thomas Little, of R R 2 Haliburton, reported his vehicle was stolen between 2 a.m. and 4:30 a.m.

Bill would make tax-funded programs public Library-Museum plan summer events

Ron Van Horne, Liberal M.P.P. for London North, introduced a private member's bill which would require the government to make public the estimated cost of new programs to be funded by taxpayers. This bill will be debated on May 24th. Presently, the standing orders of the Legislative Assembly require that, on the introduction of a Government Bill, a compendium of background information be delivered to the Opposition critics. The purpose of Van Horne's private member's bill is to give some specific dimensions to the required compendium.

Highlights of the bill are: -purpose, objective and estimated total cost of new program be made publicly available; -effect of new program on employment conditions, tax revenues and capital investment be identified; -programs which exceed estimated cost be investigated and reported by both the Minister and the Provincial Auditor.

This special release, along with a copy of the Bill, is being sent to all weekly newspapers (in addition to the Queen's Park media) in hope that this bill will be brought to the attention of all Ontarians.

Hopefully, in turn, every provincial member will be urged by his/her constituents to support this bill which will be debated on the 24th of this month.

Our province's present deficit of over $1.3 billion dollars has been caused in part by poor planning and poor money management. This bill will force the Government to be more careful in spending the public's money.

Library-Museum plan summer events

Mrs. Carol Finn was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Minden Library-Museum complex group. Carol outlined the progress of the Guild Station and the exhibits that would be available this summer. It is hoped that when the Minden Complex is completed we can make use of exhibits such as these when they are in the County. Carol stressed the hard work and dedication involved in any worthwhile project.

Money raising events planned by the Library-Museum Group are as follows: June 9 - Summer Dance in the Minden Arena 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. music by Jim Brooks. A buffet lunch and special occasion permit. Tickets available at $10 per couple from committee members or phone 286-1485. July 25 - white elephant and bake sale on main street as part of Rotary mall. July 28 - Art Show and Sale at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen Home. Raffles - for a quilt and a painting.

Please assist us in these projects by giving us your personal support. Next general meeting is Monday, June 4th at the Municipal Office at 8 p.m.

Sacrament of Confirmation by Bishop

The Most Rev. J.L. Doyle D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Peterborough, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to twenty-seven young people at Our Lady of Fatima Mission Church in Minden on Sunday, the 13th of May.

Bernice Majoros, Mario De Palo, Steve MacNaull and James Majoros members of the Confirmation class read the selected readings for the day. Rev. Wm. Russell, who is to be ordained in June, was peacemaker for the Ceremonies. Music for the service was provided by Mrs. Ron Reid, Mrs. R. Berry and Mr. L. Van Lieshout.

In his homily, Bishop Doyle urged his listeners to strive to grow in relationship with the Lord. That their personal friendship with Jesus would be as warm and deep as would be possible to make witness and stand for Christ". This is not easy in our day but it is most important for the family of God." He told the young people how the first apostles, who were not wealthy or worldly became mighty creatures with a mission to teach and lead when the Holy Spirit came to them. "Today, this same Holy Spirit is breathing as much as at the first Pentecost and if we seize upon this gift, and respond to His Presence, we could be equipped to change empires." The Bishop concluded his homily by telling the candidates for Confirmation that they were all called to a special work for which the Holy Spirit would equip them and that each of them had a special gift. He urged all to pray fervently that they be open to God's truth and give to the Church, His love.

At the conclusion of the Mass, the newly confirmed received certificates and pins. Rev. G. V. Leahy, Pastor of the Minden Church invited the congregation to the Community Centre for a reception for Bishop Doyle and a buffet supper. The head table guests included the Bishop, Fr. R. Hart, Kinmount, Rev. and Mrs. Miller from the United Church in Minden, Rev. and Mrs. Barker from the Anglican Church in Minden, Rev. Wm. Russell and seminarian Pat Herlihey and Mr. and Mrs. Art Malone. Fr. G. Leahy was M.C. for the afternoon and during the festivities called on the teachers and their helpers of the Confirmation class - Mrs. Allore, Mrs. Gervais, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Donnelly who received gifts from the class. The beautifully decorated cake was fashioned by Mrs. Nunn. The ladies of the Altar Society were in charge of the supper and all enjoyed the delicious repast.

Around the Town

Here is a verse you might think about in this springtime when you are clearing away things. When you pass by a stick with upturned nails, Or a broken bottle or two, Do you pause for a moment to make it safe For the one who comes after you? When you've learned all the ropes And been through it all

Do you help someone that's new? Or do you smugly say, "Let him shift for himself?" The one who comes after you? Life can be beautiful only, if we Make it lovely for others too... And remember...somebody you love may be The one who comes after you! Nick Kenny.

Enter the Fish Contest

The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters kicked off the 1979 angling season by opening its 21st annual Molson's Big Fish Contest on April 28. This year's contest features a special painting by top-notch Canadian wildlife artist, Michael Dumas. Every angler who enters a fish over the Molson's Canadian award weight will receive a beautiful reproduction print.

Honour award weights for each category are as follows: Brook Trout - 3 lbs.; Smallmouth Bass - 4 lbs.; Largemouth Bass - 5 lbs.; Rainbow Trout - 6 lbs.; Walleye - 8 lbs.; Salmon - 12 lbs.; Lake Trout - 15 lbs.; Northern Pike - 15 lbs.; Maskinonge - 20 lbs.

Cash prizes remain at $500 for each of the nine categories...a total of $4,500. The top 15 fish entered in every category earn cash prizes.

Entry forms for the 1979 Molson's Big Fish Contest are available from bait and tackle shops, fishing camps, or lodges, or direct from the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, Box 28, Peterborough, K9J 6Y5.

Be sure to carry an entry form in your tackle box at all times. You never know when the big fish will hit.

"Retirement should be something to look forward to"

Patrick Daniel

Retired Canadians built Canada. The N.D.P. believes they have a right to security and peace of mind.

Canada's New Democrats would:

Make sure pensions cover all Canadians.

Invest Canada Pension Plan funds to benefit the younger Canadians.

Reduce the eligibility age for benefits to sixty years of age so that people can retire while they are still able to enjoy it. This would open more jobs for the younger workers and help fight unemployment.

Guarantee minimum income for Canadians to wipe out poverty for good.

Introduce a fair tax system to make sure people aren't taxed into poverty.

To help make these policies come true, send a New Democrat to Ottawa.

Ontario tests of 43,000 fish provide guide

Tests of more than 43,000 fish from 625 Ontario lakes and rivers show that sport fish from many popular angling waters are free from contamination, Environment Minister Harry C. Parrott announced today.

"Fish from 189 new lakes and rivers were tested during the past year as part of Ontario's continuing long-term program. Results show that most species and sizes may be eaten safely," said Dr. Parrott.

"It's a steadily improving story over initial tests published in 1977 when results were released for 167 lakes and rivers, many of which were near known or suspected sources of industrial pollution and population centres."

Three bilingual booklets containing information on fish from waters in Northern Ontario, Southern Ontario, and the Great Lakes were released today to provide anglers with species-by-species and lake-by-lake fish consumption guidelines. The booklets are available without charge.

The Ontario Government has conducted a fish testing program since the late 1960's under auspices of the Ministries of Natural Resources, Labour, and Environment. A compendium of test results was published in 1977 for the first time and Environment Ontario began issuing monthly bulletins reporting test results as completed. Further results were published in 1978.

"We have expanded the scope of our testing program and we have test results from most of the popular angling areas."

Dr. Parrott emphasized that contaminants which have been detected in fish through the testing program have never been found in sufficient quantities to make any of Ontario's lakes and rivers unfit for swimming or as a source of treated drinking water.

Data in the new publications assesses possible contaminants such as mercury, mirex, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), and DDT and provides the public with recommended levels of consumption for fish tested.

Summarizing the results of 625 lakes and rivers tested to date: In 93 per cent (or 583) of the waterbodies tested, some or all sizes and species of fish

Moved by Chambers, Seconded by Stuart that the clerk be authorized to circulate to local contractors requesting hourly rates for rental of equipment to the Municipality as requested from time to time during the years 1979 and 1980. Carried.

Correspondence and Informational

Ministry of Housing - congratulating Council on their completion of zoning by-law 78-43.

Employment & Job Creation - advised of application for Young Canada Grant being denied.

Moved by Chambers, Seconded by Platt that the meeting be adjourned. Carried.

were found to be suitable for unrestricted consumption (i.e. 21 meals per week); In 6.4 per cent (or 40) of the waterbodies tested, the guidelines recommend restricted consumption of all species and sizes tested; In only 0.32 per cent (or 2) of the waterbodies tested do the guidelines recommend no consumption of any fish tested. (These two locations are on the Wabigoon River below Dryden and in Clay Lake on the Wabigoon River.) On Clay Lake, a Federal-Provincial task force is investigating possible remedial measures to counteract the mercury problem.

Copies of the free bilingual booklets, "Guide to Eating Ontario Sport Fish," for the Great Lakes, Southern, and Northern Ontario are available from any office of the Ministries of Environment, Natural Resources, or Northern Affairs, and from L.C.B.O. and Brewers' Retail outlets in vacation areas during spring and summer.

Tests of fish from over 200 lakes and rivers are planned by Natural Resources and Environment during 1979. Results will be published next spring and, as in the past, Environmental Health Bulletins will be issued on a routine basis as new data becomes available.

Wintario gets half back at the movies

Wintario enthusiasts are urged to take advantage of the HALF BACK program by using non-winning Wintario tickets for discounts to see a Canadian movie. The HALF BACK program which runs May 1 until September 30, enables the public to use Wintario tickets for draws from April to the end of September as discounts on record albums or tapes by Canadian performers and on admission to see Canadian feature films. Over 500 record stores and 350 theatres throughout Ontario are participating. HALF BACK is a program of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation designed to promote greater appreciation of Canadian recording and film talent.

SNATCHES FROM YESTERYEAR

In the morning at daylight (or earlier) to the fireplace would be added some kindling and some dry wood and the water in the iron kettle hung over this might still be warm. In early days, matches were not so plentiful and lighters unheard of, or you might have to use a flint with some tinder. By the time most of the settlers came to our area, there were stoves and these were useful but someone had to get up during the long winter nights to keep the fire going. Mondays would perhaps be wash-day and the large boiler would be heated on the stove and using their home-made soap, clothes would be boiled. There were wrung out by hand and often enough hung over the fence to dry or if you were bleaching some article, these would be placed on the grass. In winter the washing was often brought in, frozen stiff as a board, and hung around the room. For light you did all that you could in daylight, for at night there might be only a candle (home-made, of course) or later coal oil lamps. The lamp chimney would often be black by bedtime so these were cleaned during the day.

Coffee was not so plentiful, but tea was in the stores and the pot sat at the back of the stove and "brewed away" ready for any visitor.

No telephones, how did they learn the news? Mostly by neighbouring visits, but usually for a reason, and there were peddlars who called at all the homes, selling their wares, they would pass on what they knew; not all the gossip was by the women.

No radio, you made your own music, perhaps you would be lucky enough to have a pump organ, mouth organ, guitar, fiddle or might just sing along together.

For the youngsters, they had their chores, wood to be split, and kindling to be brought in, water for the wasing, or cooking, sometimes this was from a spring or creek, usually not far away. The eggs to gather and hens and ducks and geese to feed. Perhaps you would have to round up the cattle on your way from school. If you had a good dog, he would be waiting to tag along on this. These cattle would go in the barn or shed and milking was done by hand morning and night and they needed food and water as well. But from this you would have a goodly supply of milk, cream, and your own butter and buttermilk.

Apples were gathered from all the trees you could find and these were stored in the dug-out or dried for use in the winter. Other fruit were preserved in every available jar, nearly everything was used and only sugar bought to do down this winter fruit.

Several days in the Fall were used to get in the potatoes and other vegetables, and perhaps you would help the neighbours with that, too.

For some clothing perhaps you would have some sheep and these had their wool used in blankets or for spinning into yarn for mitts and socks.

It was a busy time and with everyone having chores, to do, perhaps there was little time for youngsters to get into mischief; or perhaps this was because you lived too far from town to get together with the gang.

More later.

New system provides secret ballot for blind

Blind voters will be able to previously permitted the blind cast secret ballots for the first time in a federal general election when Canadians go to the polls May 22nd.

This is made possible by a template that fits over the ballot, permitting the blind elector, or one with very poor eyesight, to mark the ballot without assistance.

The system results from discussions held last year between the officials of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Chief Electoral Officer, Jean-Marc Hamel.

The CNIB estimates there are some 33,000 blind persons in Canada who are eligible to vote in the federal election.

The Canada Elections Act last fall's federal by-elections, and has been adopted for use in provincial elections by Alberta and British Columbia. Ontario has implemented a slightly different process, but one designed for the same objective -- to allow blind voters to cast ballots in secret without help from others.
